Ambassador Munir Akram calls on the UN Secretary General

New York – March 08, 2024

Ambassador Munir Akram, permanent representative of Pakistan to the United Nations, called on UN Secretary General H.E. Antonio Guterres at the United Nations headquarters today.

They discussed the preparations for the forthcoming Summit of the Future in the meeting and hoped that the Summit outcome would help in responding to the priority needs of the developing countries.

Speaking on the occasion, the Pakistani envoy commended the UN Secretary General's commitment to the sustainable development goals (SDGs) agenda and said that latter's leadership would be pivotal in shaping win-win outcomes.

Ambassador Akram also handed over a booklet to the UN Secretary General on the occasion that featured the contribution of Pakistani female peacekeepers towards the establishment and maintenance of global peace and security under the umbrella of the United Nations.
